WHERE ART CHANGES LIVES

Mission & vision

Creativity Explored gives artists with developmental disabilities the means to create and share their work with the community, celebrating the power of art to change lives.

Our vision is a society that embraces artists with developmental disabilities and is enlivened by their creative contributions

"The artists we serve have so much to share with the world.

Our advocacy and support leads directly to more choice, more income, and more representation for them.

That's why all of us—artists, staff, board and supporters—really went for it this past year."

Linda Johnson, Executive Director

A year of big ideas

Our program continues to leap forward and expand opportunities for more artists with developmental disabilities.

JULY 2018

Disparity Program establishes a plan for equity for CE artists of color.

AUGUST 2018

ArtSpan selects CE artist Andrew Li to create a temporary mural at the Salesforce Transbay Terminal

SEPTEMBER 2018

Fabulate!, a fashion exhibition, transforms our 16th Street studio into a psychedelic runway.

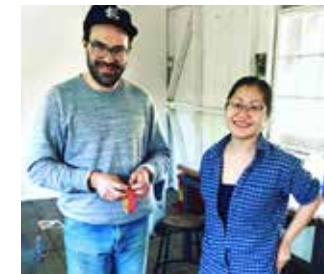

JANUARY 2019

The Kenneth Rainin Foundation awards Creativity Explored its prestigious Open Spaces grant supporting a collaborative installation with renowned artist Ana Teresa Fernández. Funding from The National Endowment for the Arts and the California Arts Council follows.

APRIL 2019

Teaching Artists from Creativity Explored, Creative Growth and NIAD come together to make art at Chalk Hill Residency and strategize about accessible residencies for artists with developmental disabilities.

MAY 2019

Our 16th Street studio receives a facelift including our first ever kitchen, conference room and artist respite room.

JUNE 2019

Imagine Saturdays, a community artmaking program for people of all ages and abilities, launches at our 16th Street studio.

We couldn't do it without our partners

A day at our studios

MORNING

CE artists arrive at our studios where they practice in a variety of mediums—paints, colored pencils, markers, and more. Our ceramics station fills with artists sculpting and molding clay. Computers in our media arts area provides the technology needed for artists to create digital drawings, animations and even virtual worlds. Teaching artists and volunteers provide guidance while empowering our artists as they choose their materials and subject matter.

AFTERNOON

CE artists head home for the day. Our Art Services team visits a nearby affordable housing complex to install CE artwork. Our Licensing team meets a leader in the fashion industry who will license CE artwork to adorn products and marketing materials.

EVENING

Community members pack our studio, activated to celebrate our artists and our current gallery exhibition. Guests buy artwork with 50% going directly to CE artists. An offsite exhibition also opens showing CE artwork alongside pieces created by other artists in the contemporary art world.

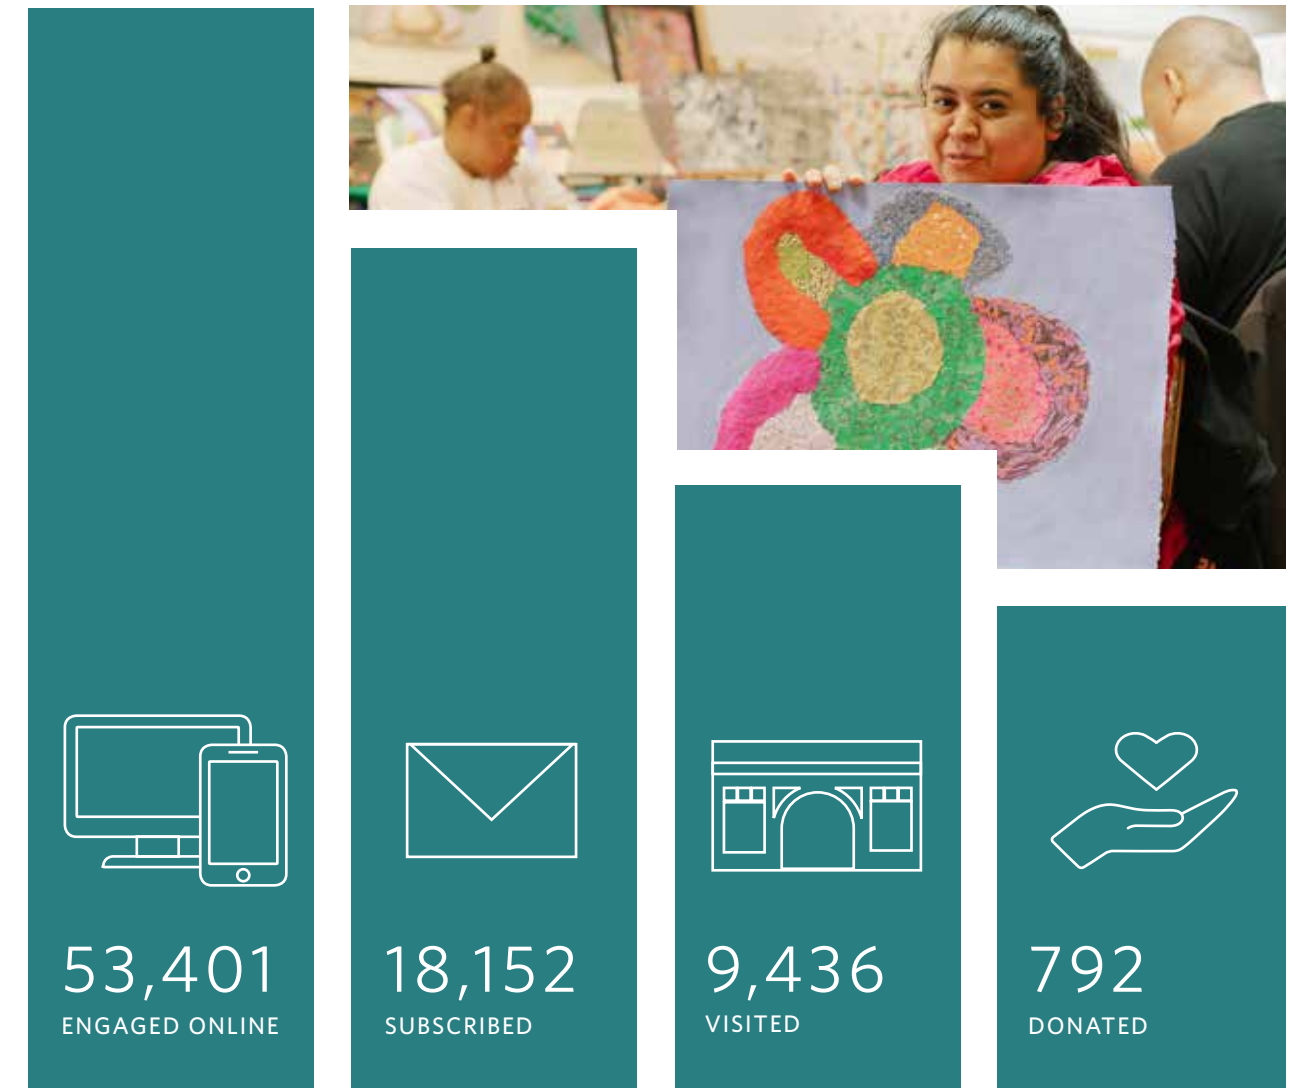

WEEKENDS

CE artists working as paid interns teach artmaking techniques to community members during our Imagine Saturdays program.

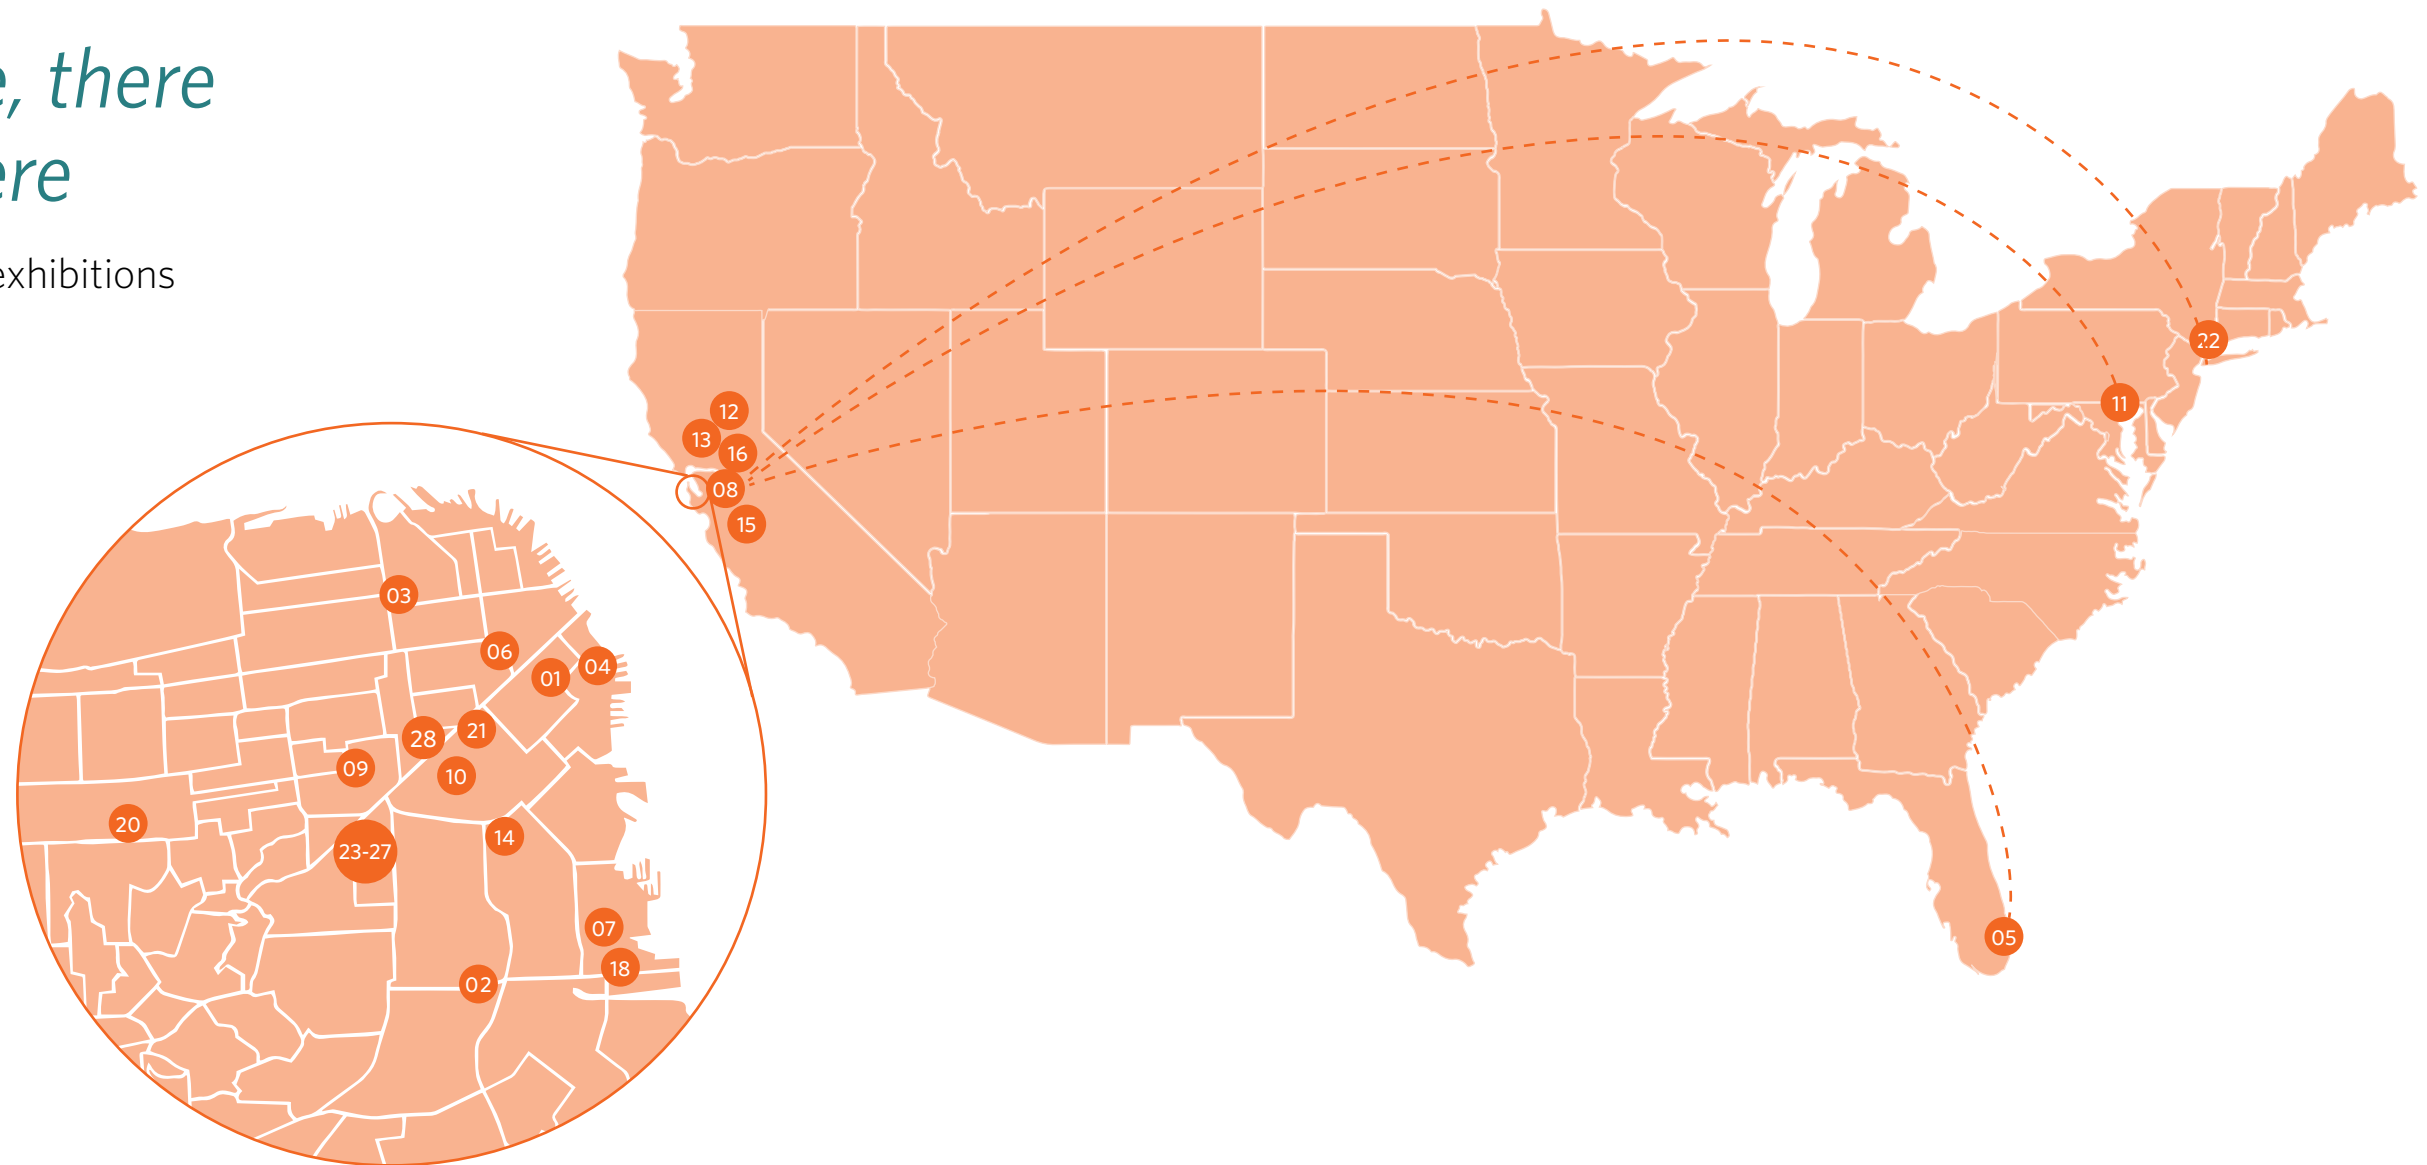

You joined us

From attending our gallery opening receptions and special events to liking and retweeting our social posts, you supported our programs and empowered our artists throughout the year. Thank you!

We were here, there and everywhere
